Dear Russ:

Mr. David Wilson of the State Department called me today to discuss the wire room in London which, I understand, is operated jointly by FBIB and the State Department. Their appropriations, as you know, have been severely cut and their operations in London, so he says, will be greatly curtailed during the next year. Also, for budgetary reasons, they have not granted their teletype operators the increase which we recently granted ours to conform to union wages.

Specifically, he requests that we take one of the teletype operators whose name is ██████████ and place her on our payroll. Her present salary is $1380 per year, but he states that she should receive an increase of $60 which would total $1440 per year.

I would appreciate your advice on this matter as early as you can give it to me.

Sincerely,

STATINTL
